AS PER USUAL

BY DAMI LEE

My friends and I went to the "Ice Festival" at Central Park last weekend.

This being New York, it was very crowded.

THERE WAS ONE (1 !!!) SCULPTURE IN THE FESTIVAL LIKE WTF
BEING SWEPT AWAY
AAA AHH
FESTIVAL HAS NOW TURNED INTO A SILENT RAVE, FOR SOME REASON

Still, it was good for people-watching.

DO THAT AGAIN BITCH
I DARE YOU
I'M SORRY
O SHIT

It was great for dog-watching, too!
OMG A PUPPY!

Or so I thought.

I'm still glad we went though, if only for this cute snowman we saw that was alone in the park, away from the crowds.

He was weird and lumpy,
but I was happy he was there.
